Regulation 2661

Discipline

In-School Suspension

A student may be suspended in school, which means the student comes to school each day but does not report to his/her regular classes. Instead he/she reports to the principal who shall assign or cause to be assigned academic work which the student shall complete, independently, in a supervised area. Credit shall be received for all work completed during an in-school suspension.

Any student who serves more than two days in in-school suspension during any given semester shall not be exempted from taking semester examinations as provided for in Regulation 2310, Excused/Unexcused Absences (Test Exemption Policy).

Amended: December 16, 1991
